

Affirm

Locations: California (HQ)

Industries: Diversified Financials, Payment Processing

RISK LEVEL:

High Risk

DESCRIPTION:

Affirm, a financial tech company, has cut ties with MyPillow after its CEO claimed that election fraud may have played a role in the outcome of the 2020 election. One of Affirm's executives stated that the company would not hesitate to end business relationships with clients who don't share their values. The company does not provide viewpoint protections for its employees. Affirm signed an amicus brief in opposition to the 2016 North Carolina bathroom bill HB2, which required people to use the bathroom of their biological sex. The company supports the Equality Act and transgender participation in female sports. Affirm opposed legislation in Iowa intended to protect parental rights, girls'™ sports, bathroom facilities, and gendered spaces. For these reasons, Affirm receives a High Risk rating.

Corporate Weaponization

Has canceled customers, suppliers, or vendors due to their political views or religious beliefs OR corporately boycotts, divests, or sanctions regions, people groups, or industries. High Risk

CFO of Affirm Michael Linford has stated that "any merchant [that] isn't aligned to our values, any partners unaligned to our values, we don't do business with them" (1). Affirm also cut ties with MyPillow, after its CEO, Mike Lindell, claimed that election fraud may have played a part in the outcome of the 2020 election (2).

Charitable giving (including employee matching programs) policies or practices discriminate against charitable organizations based on views or religious beliefs. Medium Risk

Affirm will not donate to "organizations funding religious services such as worship, seminary, yeshiva, or other education for ordainment of proselytism" (1).

Employment policies fail to protect against viewpoint or other discrimination and/or are ideological in nature. High Risk

Affirm does not provide viewpoint protections for its employees (1).

Corporate Governance and Public Policy

Uses corporate reputation to support causes, organizations, or policies hostile to freedom of expression. High Risk

Affirm opposed the Florida Parental Rights in Education Act, which would prohibit teaching gender identity and sexual orientation to kids in K-3rd grade (1). The company was part of the Freedom for All Americans coalition, which advocated for federal legislation that would overrule state laws designed to protect girls' sports and similar laws (234). Affirm signed an amicus brief in opposition to the 2016 North Carolina bathroom bill HB2, which required people to use the bathroom of their biological sex (5).

Uses corporate funds to advance ideological causes, organizations, or policies hostile to freedom of expression. Lower Risk

Affirm has not used corporate funds to advance ideological causes, organizations, or policies (1).

Uses corporate political actions and/or financial contributions for ideological, non-business purposes. Lower Risk

Affirm has not used its PAC donations or lobbied for ideological purposes (1)(2)(3)

The contents of this website and related resources (collectively, the "materials") are general in nature and intended for educational use only. Nothing in the materials or any other 1792 Exchange content constitutes legal or professional advice for any specific matter. Anyone seeking legal or professional advice should obtain such advice from competent counsel. Since individual circumstances vary, anyone reviewing the materials and/or any other 1792 Exchange content is strongly urged to obtain specific legal and/or other professional advice before acting or refraining from acting based on such materials or other 1792 Exchange content. 1792 Exchange accepts no responsibility for any loss or damage, howsoever incurred, which may result from accessing or relying on the materials or any other 1792 Exchange content. Further, 1792 Exchange disclaims, to the fullest extent permitted by law, all liability for any acts or omissions based on the materials or any other 1792 Exchange content.

USER AGREEMENT: Company reports and other resources are intended only for the private educational use of the registered user. Republishing and distributing reports and resources is strictly prohibited. By downloading reports and resources, the user accepts these conditions.

© 1792 Exchange 2023